HAVING secured the services of Dr. C. H. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and need but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours. feb4:tf

Mining Prospects.

The steamer from San Francisco did not bring the crowd of miners which many of our citizens had anticipated and from all that we can learn of the prevailing feeling in California, there is not much reason to expect any rush like that of last year Previous disappointments and failures have taught those who came once that they had better stay where they are, while the high coloring, which has too often been used to lend attraction to the mining localities, has caused suspicion and doubt, even as to what is really true There recent astonishing silver discoveries in the Washoe District also have diverted the attention of a large number who were intending to come to Oregon, but who now have set their faces and footsteps towards Nevada For the present, then, we have little cause to expect any special increase to the mining population from abroad; perhaps, except as to traders, whose operations may be somewhat lessened, this is not much to be regretted as it will prove vastly beneficial to those who are now on the ground, and to our own citizens who are on their way, or soon will be. We have no doubt that far more gold will be taken out this year than heretofore, and under less disadvantages as to supplies and transportation and we are quite willing that the benefits and profits shall belong to our own people, rather than to the stray diggers, who come simply to fill their pockets from the harvest of our gold fields and go elsewhere to spend their gains; having left only the pittance which their food has cost. That sort of development of our resources is of very little benefit, and we hope its day has gone by, never again to return. We have no doubt, however, that when the results of the labor of the next two months are made apparent by the shipments of treasure to San Francisco, in quantities and to an amount not now anticipated, there will be a sudden and unprecedented stampede to the mines—more than rivaling in its mad haste the zeal and energy of the gold hunters of '49. In this we may be mistaken, but we have reliable intelligence that fully warrants our present faith in what we believe is speedily to be accomplished.

Probable Murder near the Cascades.

We are indebted to the Coroner for the following statement and verdict The body of a man, partly buried with leaves, was found by Gen. Palmer's party, on the 10th inst, near the trail. A short distance from where the body was lying, were discovered, also buried under the leaves, one pair of white and one pair of grey blankets, with the cover of a knapsack. The body appeared to be that of a Frenchman, about 40 years of age, of medium size, sandy moustache and whiskers, the latter rather thin, it had on a Guernsey undershirt; shirt, drawers and socks made of grey blanket, blue pants made of the same material as soldiers wear, a blouse and boots split up in front and laced, it was tattooed on the left breast and on both arms, representing the Goddess of Liberty, American coat of arms, the crucifixion with burning tapers, on both arms the American Eagle and an anchor On the body, between the chin and waist, thirteen wounds were distinctly visible The man was supposed to have been murdered within the last two weeks.

The verdict of the Coroner's Jury was as follows.

STATE OF OREGON, }
COUNTY OF MULTNOMAH }

An inquisition taken at a place about one and one half miles below the lower Cascades, in the county and State aforesaid, on the 13th day of March, 1863, before Wm Grooms, Coroner of said county, upon the view of a male person there lying dead, by the oaths of the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed who being sworn, on behalf of the State of Oregon, when, how and by what means the said male person came to his death upon their oaths say that they are unable to ascertain the name of the deceased, and further say that he came to his death by wounds inflicted by some sharp instrument in the hands of some person or persons unknown to the jury.

In testimony whereof the said Coroner and jurors have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year aforesaid

WM GROOMS, Coroner

JURORS.—JOHN H RADZ, ELI HARRIS, A R. GIRD, HENRY HUMPHREY, AD EDGAR, G WILLIAMS.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH —We learn that final arrangements have been made for the immediate erection of a new and elegant house of worship in this city, for the Presbyterian Society, (Rev P S Caffrey, Pastor,) at the corner of Washington and Third streets The work will be commenced forthwith, and it is hoped that it will be completed early in the Fall, as Mr Burton the contractor is not in the habit of wasting time about what he undertakes We have no doubt that the edifice will be a great ornament to the city, as well as a most desirable convenience to the Society, which has for a long time been severely incommoded for want of room for the audiences who gladly attend the services of Rev. Caffrey.

CHARLES G. LORING ON EMANCIPATION.—The opinion of a lawyer of such ability and eminence as Charles G. Loring of Boston upon emancipation will attract much attention. He says

I have already stated some of the reasons why the obligations of self-[illegible] of [illegible] of law and of humanity [illegible] us to resist at every [illegible] and at all hazards the establishment of [illegible] slave [illegible] There are at present [illegible] the blacks would [illegible] and [illegible] while the great mass [illegible] lutely determined [illegible] to sustain the Union with the Constitution [illegible] ing that the natural laws [illegible] will eventually, and at no very distant day, solve the great problem in the manner last suggested, with the least possible injury to all existing rights and interests

But if this solution shall be found to be impracticable; if the South shall with pertinacious recklessness [illegible] desperately struggle, or shall be aided in continuing it with better hope of success by foreign intervention so that the alternative must be either the destruction of the Union or the immediate extermination of slavery—then we have no doubt whether [illegible] our interest, or of our right and the law of self-preservation, or of our duty to God and man, [illegible] at once by all means in our power. We shall not falter nor hesitate in the [illegible] straight on leaving the consequences in the hands of Him who causeth the wrath of man to praise Him," and upon the heads of those who have thus brought upon themselves an awful retribution for a degree of wickedness and folly beyond all former example

WHAT MISSOURI UNIONISTS THINK OF ILLINOIS COPPERHEADS.—Hon, Henry T Blow a member of Congress elect from the Missouri Second District, at the great Union meeting in St Louis last week gave his opinion of Illinois Copperheads, as follows

"My friends, we had the Claib Jackson Democracy in Missouri, and a traitor army at Camp Jackson, and they have passed away, to [illegible] Missouri only to re appear in Illinois [illegible] in the crowd, 'that's so,' in the first in their old disguise of Democracy [illegible] in their more secret organization of Knights of the Golden Circle The intention of these [illegible] tionists at Springfield and the [illegible] of the Golden Circle stamp need not be dwelt upon, their object is plain open [illegible], they exist because the Government spares them and if they succeed, it will be because this Government has been too lenient with them Here we stand, in noble contrast, ready to crush out the first conspirator who dares to re utter the Springfield treason The only difference between them and the Southern traitors is that the one originated a vile rebellion to perpetuate slavery and the other, slave like, are trying to sever the United States in obedience to the will of their masters—The first are not only the most formidable, but the least contemptible [Cheers] There is still another party, more insignificant than the Springfield traitors, who have the audacity to call themselves constitutional men and are sighing and praying to have New England left out in the cold I need not say that the last class are the most miserable secessionists and repudiators that disgrace our land, and will live only to be despised by every loyal heart [Applause]

BLACK SOLDIERS —Gen Nathaniel Greene one of the ablest, most experienced and successful of the American Generals, in a letter to Washington, dated on the 24th of January, 1782, says

"I have recommended to this State (South Carolina) to raise some black regiments"

The letter of General Greene to Governor Rutledge, of South Carolina, on employing negro soldiers, is of the greatest importance

"The national strength of the country, in point of numbers, appears to me to consist much more in the blacks than in the whites Could they be incorporated and employed for its defense, it would afford you [illegible] That they would make good soldiers, I have not the least doubt"

Against such testimony in favor of the necessity, practicability and success of General Hunter's proposal to arm loyal blacks in defense of the Republic the overwhelming opinion of lounging, whisky drinking soldiers, rebel sympathizers Democratic political leaders, camp followers, loafers and scoundrels, is generally arrayed

OPINION OF THE LEADING DEMOCRATIC PAPER OF KENTUCKY —The Louisville Democrat, the leading Democratic paper of Kentucky says

There can be no true Democracy while the army of treason is in the field, except War Democracy The office hunters who, at a time like this, preach peace, peace, in the North may be Democrats in name but in reality they are tories and traitors, who would be in arms against their Government were they living in the so called Confederacy

The above is a nut for the Commercial and its kind of self styled Democrats who are as innocent of all knowledge and [illegible] of true Democracy as Judas Iscariot was of fidelity to his Divine Master He made money by his treachery—they follow his example in their professions and actions and we fear will end where he did, when he went "to his own place"

THE PLEASURES OF CONSCRIPTION.—Citizens of "conscription age" says the Richmond Whig, have at length had the horrors of war brought home to their own doors—or at least if they venture a few steps outside of their doors they find themselves surrounded by a row of fearful bayonets and in danger of being carried off into captivity with a pleasing prospect of $11 a month with rations of beef and bread Men of war are posted at the street corners [illegible] at the [illegible] ters at every public place and as the citizen comes along, intent upon business or pleasure, he is saluted with [illegible] "Halt! show your papers" and if he can't produce them, off he goes to the rendezvous of [illegible] to receive the first lessons in the art of serving his country Thus papers have become quite an important item in the affairs of men, and woe be to him who has failed to secure this evidence of his right to stay at his home.

THE CAMELS —The ships of the desert just arrived from the Walker River marshes, with a cargo of salt for the Central Mill held a levee in this place (Virginia City N T) and were visited by many [illegible] ing bipeds The venerable patriarch of the band did not seem to relish much the [illegible] tentions of his visitors and [illegible] to his indignation [illegible] who ventured near him A [illegible] male, who reclined at full length upon the ground screamed [illegible] when [illegible] for ward youngster attempted to toy with her shaggy locks The camels appeared to be in good order.—Territorial Enterprise

MR EDITOR —Our attention has been attracted by a communication published in the Portland [illegible] of [illegible] inst, signed Webb[illegible] The principal object of the writer seems to be to [illegible] "Black Hawk" [illegible] Manhattan, and to [illegible] Marion county trotters. We have nothing to say [illegible] these branches of [illegible] articles but [illegible] [illegible] Black Hawk horse for $1000, and [illegible] Webb [illegible] Marion county who may be [illegible] to trot our Black Hawk stallion against any stallion of Marion county not a [illegible] on Saturday the 28th of this month over the Union Track mile heats best three in five under the rules of the Multnomah County Jockey Club for $1000 a side in Greenbacks Our money for the match is now deposited with F W [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co's office in this city Do you hear that Webb Foot?

Who owns the Street?

MR EDITOR —I wish to have everybody [illegible] as I think I have as good a right to Front street as any one else I would like to know who owners of the big signs [illegible] to hang such things up in the middle of the street If one may do it all have the same privilege, and [illegible] the appearance of a [illegible] It seems to me however, that no person ought to be allowed to obstruct the street in such a way merely for his own profit, and aside from the clothes line [illegible] is a nuisance on a windy day like yesterday, when the flapping of the canvas frightened almost every horse that passed along I hope the owners of such signs will benefit by removing them, and thus promote the good appearance of

OCEAN MAIL SERVICE —In the proceedings of Congress near the close of its session, we notice the following and suppose we shall shortly have mails by steamer from San Francisco, in addition to those overland This will be a great public convenience

HOUSE—The Post Office Bill making appropriations for the ensuing fiscal year, was finally passed, and the following Senate amendment to the bill was concurred in

SEC 10 And be it further enacted That the Postmaster General be, and he is hereby, authorized to contract and provide for the transportation of the United States mail on the steamships running between San Francisco, California, and Victoria, Vancouver Island, to be delivered at Crescent City and Trinidad, California Astoria and Portland, in Oregon, as often as said steamships touch at said ports named and at Port Angeles, Washington Territory as often as said steamships approach it pass that port going or returning to Victoria, and that the mail service provided for by the fifth section of the act entitled An Act making appropriations for the service of the Post Office Department during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1863," shall cease at the termination of the year for which it was contracted Provided, nevertheless, that the service herein provided for shall not exceed the sum of $24,000 per annum

A TRUE WORD —In the course of a late sermon delivered by Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, he remarked

I think the world have found out clearly enough we are weak We are not weak in numbers or resources, but we are weak in that efficient action which comes of faith, earnestness, self denial and unity of purpose We have made many awful sacrifices to no purpose We follow up nothing, so that it tells substantially upon the final issue The fault is laid here and there and everywhere, and there are none so positive in their censure as those who know nothing of the facts.

JOKE ON JIM LANE —When Jim Lane was in St Louis some weeks ago, on his way to Washington he stepped into one of the military headquarters, desiring to see the commanding officer in an anteroom he laid his overcoat and muffler on a chair and, casting an inquiring and anxious glance at an Orderly, said

'They will be safe here, I suppose?'

'Yes' replied the Orderly, 'there are no Kansas troops in town, General"

The Kansas Senator smiled audibly, enjoyed the jest, and "went in," satisfied of the safety of his things'

NEW ENGLAND AND THE WEST —The following is an extract from a business letter from Chicago

When New England is left out in the cold the West goes with her The Northwest is but a slip cut from New England and planted in richer and deeper soil If she cuts off her it is nothing strange Many a dutiful and loyal son stands head and shoulders taller than his mother but that makes him all the more ready to give her due respect, and, if need be, protection

Legal Tender Notes this Day--70 to 75 cts.

SWAMPED.—A small boat, containing four men, swamped near the middle of the river, opposite this city, yesterday afternoon, during the unusually heavy blow which lasted for an hour or so. When the boat filled, one man struck out for shore and was rescued after a severe struggle with the waves. The others clung to the boat till picked up by boats which went to their assistance. Mr Robert Law, sen., while making preparations to launch a boat to go to the relief of the endangered men, severely sprained his ankle, from which he suffered much pain. We cannot but commend the alacrity displayed by our citizens on this occasion.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The attention of those of our citizens interested in Auction sales is called to the card of Mr Mansfield among our new advertisements. Mr M is so well known to our citizens, and has been so long in business in our city, that we can add nothing to his reputation as an auctioneer by further recommendation.

Mr. J. Kallmes advertises a choice and extensive stock of Liquors and Groceries—consumers will give him a call.

PACIFIC MARKET.—This new and elegant establishment was opened this week, under the superintendence of Mr. Ham, to whose charge the enterprising proprietors, Messrs Weeks, Gilmore & Co., have entrusted its management. It is a model market in all respects, and if our readers like to have the food they eat kept in a nice place before it comes to their kitchens, they will be very apt to insist on trading at the Pacific Market.

TOO LATE.—The notice of the reduction in the price of board at the Columbian Hotel, corner Front and Washington Streets. The price of board and lodging will hereafter be $6 to $10 per week or $1 per day.

Also at Taylor's Restaurant day board can be obtained for $5 per week or 50 cents per meal. Their advertisements will appear in Monday morning's paper.

STOCK BOAT.—The Oregon Steam Navigation Company will put the steamer Julia on the line to the Cascades next week as a stock boat. Horses and mules will be taken through to Dalles at $2 50 per head.

AFTER ALL THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST IN THE LONG RUN.—Sensible people have long ago made the discovery, that it is cheapest to purchase a good article of clothing that will look well and do them justice, than to waste their money in the slop clothing stores which abound everywhere. Purchasing goods in some stores is actually worse than throwing the money away, when the disappointment occasioned by wearing a miserable garment is taken into consideration. Buy your clothing at the elegant mammoth store of Heuston, Hastings & Co., San Francisco, and your garments will last until threadbare, and then look better than some people's clothes after only a week's wear.

No Opium or Calomel.—DR HALL'S BALSAM has no equal as a Lung Medicine. And as it contains no Opium or Calomel, it is especially adapted to the delicate constitutions of females, and those suffering from CONSUMPTION, or any protracted Lung Complaint. We advise any such to give it a trial.

The New Market on Front street, No 2 Couch's Addition, is now opened by Messrs. Storage.—THE FIRE PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite the Umatilla House, is the only building not made of wood at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

White's Fever and Ague Drops.—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally and the externally over the parts affected and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night, it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhea or a relaxed state of the bowels take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and to the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

JUDGE KELLY'S SPEECH.—Judge Kelly, of Philadelphia, formerly a leading Democrat, has recently made an admirable speech in Congress, a brief abstract of which we quote:

He adverted to the fact that the friends of the bill had been twitted by the Opposition with the slow progress of the war, and the gentleman on the opposite side of the House had sneered at the Federal Generals, but they know full well why the war has not been more successful, and that one great cause of the insufficiency of our army is, that men even upon this floor, with easy access to the public mind by pen and voice, have labored in season and out of season to create distrust of each and all of our commanding Generals save one. Only one has enjoyed their confidence. He who wasted a precious year, $500,000,000 and a grander army than General ever commanded before, in illustrating the science "how not to do it," alone commands their praise. His patriotism they appreciate, because he is proficient in that sort of "strategy," as the leaders on the other side proved themselves yesterday by preventing a solitary step in the progress of the country's legislation in a session of eighteen hours. From Fremont, the Republican, to Butler, the Breckinridge Democrat, all who are willing to strike the enemy are sneered at and assailed. It is because the rebels have this Northern wing to poison the minds of soldiers and citizens, and who, as they infer from the results of the late elections, have so far affected more than half the people of the North as to induce them to refuse to enlist and to resist the draft, that the rebellion has not been long since suppressed. If the person of the black man were more sacred than that of any other, that he should not be exposed to the fire of the rebel enemy whenever it should be necessary for him to be placed where there was any danger for anybody, and if loyal men of the South were still unwilling to do their share in this struggle, why, let them sacrifice their property, if property it can be called. And if they would send a husband and wife to the auction block to procure means for their own gratification, let them sacrifice them for the defense of the Union, if need be. Kelley concluded his able speech as follows:

"Sir, I am a poor and feeble civilian. I have done little duty of a military character in my life. But this glimpse at the future grandeur of my country, recalls one night of military duty to my memory. I had the honor, Mr. Speaker, of being an humble member of that great body of the people of Pennsylvania who rushed to the frontier of Southern Maryland, to protect at once the boundary of their own State and the flank of that army which was then supposed to have won a decisive victory at Antietam. It may not be generally known that the militia of Pennsylvania protected the flank of that army from Friday noon till Sunday at eleven o'clock. It was during that time that I laid down one night, with carbine in hand, and gazed at the Milky Way, with its innumerable myriads of stars; and while I thought of home and family and of the folly of a man who, until then, had scarcely known how to handle the weapon he held, rushing to such a post, I also thought of the grandeur of my country and of its immense future. I felt, sir, that in this great struggle the life of the best loved or greatest of us all, or the sorrows of families, was no more in comparison with the cause than was the smallest star in all that immense multitude to the sun of the material universe.—And I have felt since that time, that to secure the peace of this country I would sacrifice the lives of the grandest and most delicate by thousands, and of the powerful and muscular and least valuable, by tens of thousands.—We must restore peace by achieving supremacy at whatever cost. But let not the North be asked to do it all. Authorize the President to call upon the rebellious territory to furnish its fair quota. Arm, equip and pay those who respond to his call; and when you have done so, the rebellion will have ended. These gentlemen will no longer be able to serve the rebellion by protecting the laborers of rebels, and thus furnishing it with men to handle their cannon, dig their trenches, grow their food, make their clothes, and serve—as the record shows they have served throughout the war—to fight their battles. Let these gentlemen show before the country, if they can, that it is better those negroes should shoot loyal men than shoot traitors; and when they have done so, let them take out a patent for their own loyalty."

REPORTORIAL.—The reporter for the Virginia Union and the Virginia Enterprise, over the mountains, have a lovely time "sparring" at each other. The Enterprise reporter publishes an obituary notice of his cotemporary, winding up as follows:

He became a newspaper reporter, and he crushed Truth to earth and kept her there; he bought and sold his own notes, and never attempted to pay his board; he pretended great friendship for Gillespie in order to get to sleep with him and then took advantage of his bedfellow and robbed him of his glass eye and false teeth; of course he sold the articles, and Gillespie was obliged to issue more county scrip than the law allowed, in order to get his goods back again. The Unreliable broke into my trunk at Washoe City and took jewelry, fine clothes and things, worth thousands of dollars; he was present, without invitation, at every party, ball and wedding which took place in Carson during thirteen years. But the last act of his life was the crowning meanness of it: I refer to the abuse of me in the Virginia Union of last Saturday, and also a list of Langton's stage passengers sent to the same paper by him, wherein my name appears between those of "Sam Chung" and "Hung Shun." This is his treatment of me, his benefactor. That malicious joke was his dying atrocity. During thirteen years he played himself for a white man; he fitly closed his vile career by trying to play me for a Chinaman.

He is dead and buried now, though; and so let him rest, let him rot. Let his vices be forgotten, but let his virtues be remembered; it will not infringe much upon any man's time.

MARK TWAIN.

P. S.—By private letters from Carson, since the above was in type, I am pained to learn that the Unreliable, true to his unnatural instincts, came to life again in the midst of his funeral sermon, and remains so to this moment. He was unreliable in life—he could not even be depended on in death. The dead body shoved the coffin-lid to one side, rose to a sitting posture, cocked his eye at the minister and smilingly said, "O, let me up, Dominie; this is played out, you know; loan me two bits!" The frightened congregation all rushed from the house, and the Unreliable followed them, with his coffin on his shoulder. He sold it for two dollars and a half, and got drunk at a "bit house" on the proceeds. He is still drunk.

M. T.

AN AMIABLE LADY.—A daughter of South Carolina writes to the Charleston Courier from Darlington District: "I propose to spin the thread to make the cord to execute the order of our noble President, Davis, when old Butler is caught, and my daughter asks that she may be allowed to adjust it around his neck."
